Privacy Policy

Last updated: 29 June 2026

This Privacy Policy explains how Fidentia Partners collects, uses, and protects your information when you visit our website or contact us. By using our website, you agree to the practices described below.

1. Information We Collect

Our server may automatically collect technical browsing data, such as IP addresses and cookies, when you visit our website. When connecting with Fidentia, we may collect personal identification data, such as your name, email address, postal address, and phone number.

2. How We Use Your Data

We use the information we collect to operate our business. Your data helps us improve our services and tailor our communications to your preferences.

3. Sharing With Third Parties

We do not sell your personal data. We only share your information with trusted third-party service providers to fulfil our services, or when required by law.

4. Data Security

We implement robust security measures to protect your personal data from unauthorised access, loss, or disclosure. Access to your data is strictly limited to authorised personnel who need it to carry out their responsibilities.

5. Your User Rights

You have the right to access, correct, or request the deletion of your personal data at any time. You can also opt out of marketing communications.
